

WANTED

Software Developer

for App-Development (Flutter)

Who we are

KEEPA is a young FinTech that develops an app for small shops in Africa. Our USP is a hybrid scan function that allows to record sales in a fast and easy way and through that lays the foundation to digitize bookkeeping. Our solution is lean and resolves the biggest pain points in an effective way. Our business idea offers the opportunity to promote economic development in Africa and at the same time is promising from an entrepreneurial point of view. There are millions of small shops that seek solutions for their day to day operations. The market is huge and is waiting to be conquered by us.

The first prototype has been completed and is currently tested in Sierra Leone.

Join our Team

We are looking for a highly motivated software developer as a co-founder to support us in the development of our app and our company. Two of us are presently in Sierra Leone where you could join long-term or just come by for a few weeks to get an understanding of the market conditions.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Independent development of mobile apps based on Flutter
- Personal initiative in the further development of the KEEPA app
- Collaboration in the conception and implementation of our business idea
- Contribute and implement creative ideas and solutions

Requirements

- In-depth knowledge of app development, preferably with Flutter
- Creativity and motivation
- Team player mentality and good communication skills
- Basic knowledge of machine learning would be beneficial
- Interest in becoming part of a founding team
- Flexibility and willingness to compromise in work processes
- Willingness to lead the project to success together, even in spite of great efforts

What we offer

- An exciting, challenging job with plenty of room for initiative and creativity and development potential
- Free choice of working hours and workplace
- A strong team working for a common and meaningful goal
- The chance to be part of a promising FinTech startup with long-term prospects and participation in the company
 - with a strong commitment you can earn up to 20 % of current shares

* payment will depend on funding. Until funding has been approved work will be compensated in shares.

Get in touch

If this has aroused your interest, then we look forward to getting to know you and to present our project in more detail. Just write us a short message about who you are and when you have time for a meeting.

Looking forward to hearing from you!

+232 72 443655
mail@keepa.store
www.keepa.store

YOUR FUTURE PARTNERS :)